2. The finance charge on the Perkins loan shall consist solely of interest computed on the outstanding (net unpaid) balance of principal at the annual percentage rate of five percent (5%). Interest will begin accruing nine (9) months after you cease to be at least a half-time eligible student.

3. A no-interest, no-repayment period is established at the time of initial termination of at least half-time student status. This period

5. The minimum monthly repayment of this loan is $10.45 - $20.16 (per Direct Student Loan) in accordance with the Minimum Monthly Payment Section of the Terms and Conditions contained on the MDN.

6. The maximum repayment period is ten (10) years. Exception to this period is outlined in the Hardship Repayment Options section of the MDN.

7. The borrower has the option (without penalty or premium) of repaying the loan in full or partially during the Grace Period. In addition, the loan balance may be paid in full at any time during the scheduled repayment period and would include any accrued interest.

8. If any scheduled payment cannot be made on time the student borrower must contact the Perkins Loan Office prior to the scheduled due date and advise when the payment will be remitted. The Perkins Office can be contacted at (225) 578-3092 or at email address perkinsloan@lsu.edu. The loan enters default if the payment due is not received in the Perkins Office by the scheduled due date. From such default, the borrower's future registration for the student will be denied until the delinquent balance is paid. Transcripts may be withheld. The student may also lose eligibility for future Financial Aid from Title IV and university grant and loan funds. Such defaulted loan accounts are reported to the credit bureau. These accounts may also be referred to an outside collection agency. Such referral includes outstanding principal, accrued interest, late fees, collection costs, and attorney's fees. A Notice of Referral and Demand for Payment is sent prior to such action. Borrowers whose loans have been referred to a collection agency will automatically forfeit their rights for deferment and forbearance as outlined in the MDN.

every late payment made after the scheduled payment date.

10. This loan is to be used only for the borrower's education expenses.

11. Perkins Loans may be consolidated; however all deferment, cancellation, and repayment benefits provided under the Federal Perkins Loan program are forfeited upon consolidation. The School is no longer the holder of the debt.

12. The Federal Perkins Loan program provides for non-deferment and forbearance when borrowers are involved in particular careers or types of work: certain teaching jobs, early intervention services, law enforcement or corrections work, nurses or medical technicians, child program or pre-kindergarten/child care program licensed or regulated by the State, volunteering in ACTION programs, military service performed in hostility areas, fire fighters, librarians, faculty member at a tribal college or university, speech language pathologist, and federal public defenders. Specific qualifications and details for each program are included in the Cancellations section of the MDN.

13. The U.S. Army offers a loan non-repayment assistance program as an incentive. Under this recruitment program, the U.S. Department of Defense will
