

Mandatory Reporting

Press "Esc" or
Click to Exit S
Quickly

OFFICE OF TITLE IX

Prevalence on Campus

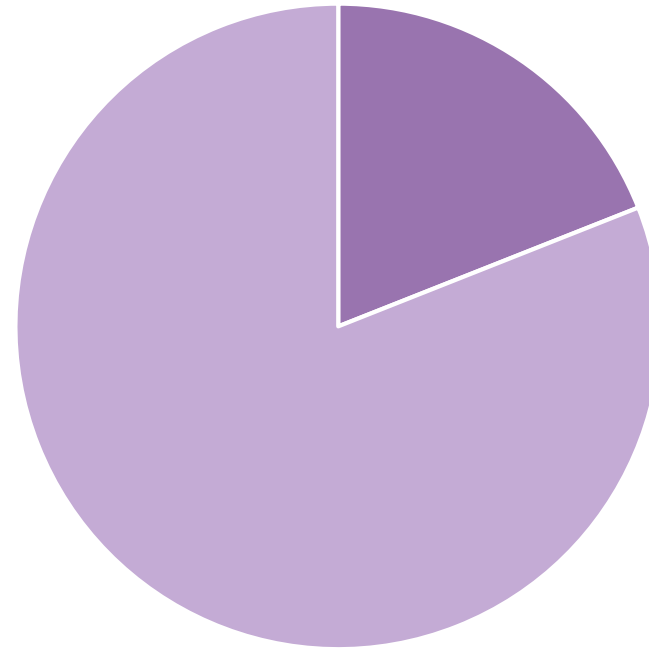

At least one sexually harassing behavior (42%)

LSU 42% = 12,600 students

Interfered with academic or professional performance (19%)

LSU 19% = 5,700 students

Discriminative Behavior Under Title IX

- Discrimination based on sex or gender
- Sexual Harassment
- Dating and domestic interpersonal violence
- Sexual assault
- Stalking
- Retaliation

YOU ARE A MANDATORY REPORTER

Yes

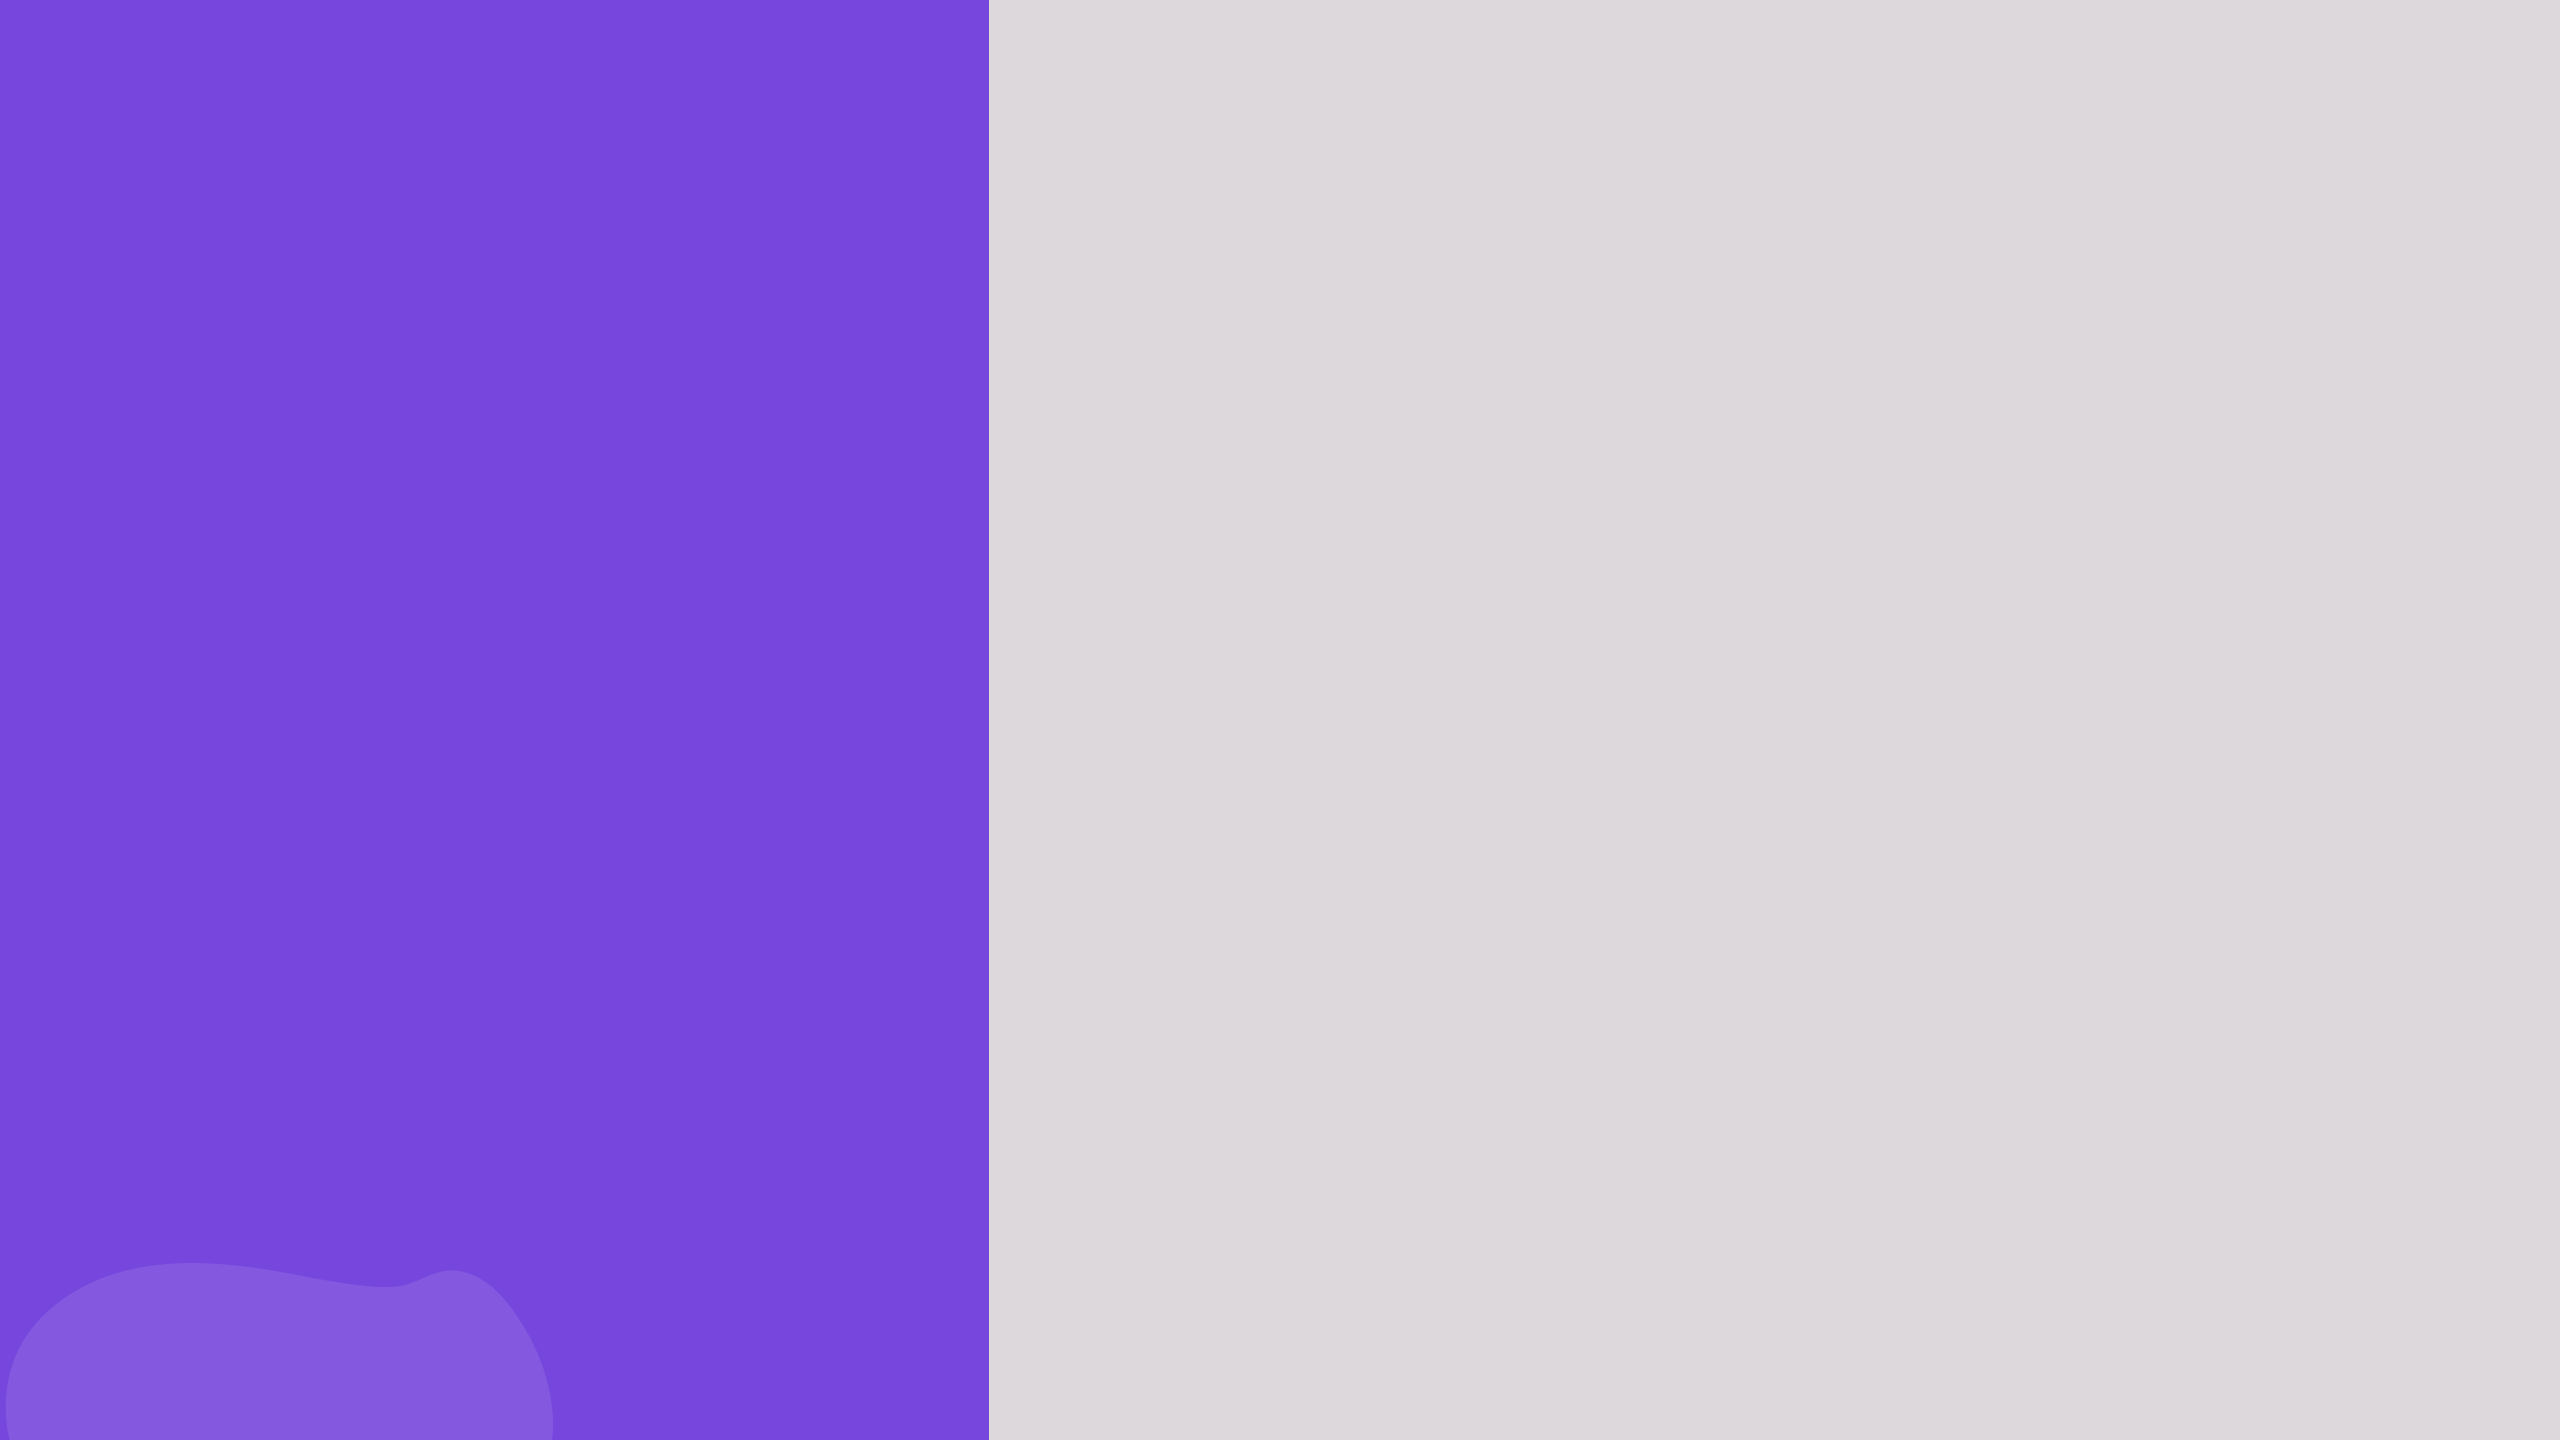

Yes

If someone tells you about someone who was discriminated against

No

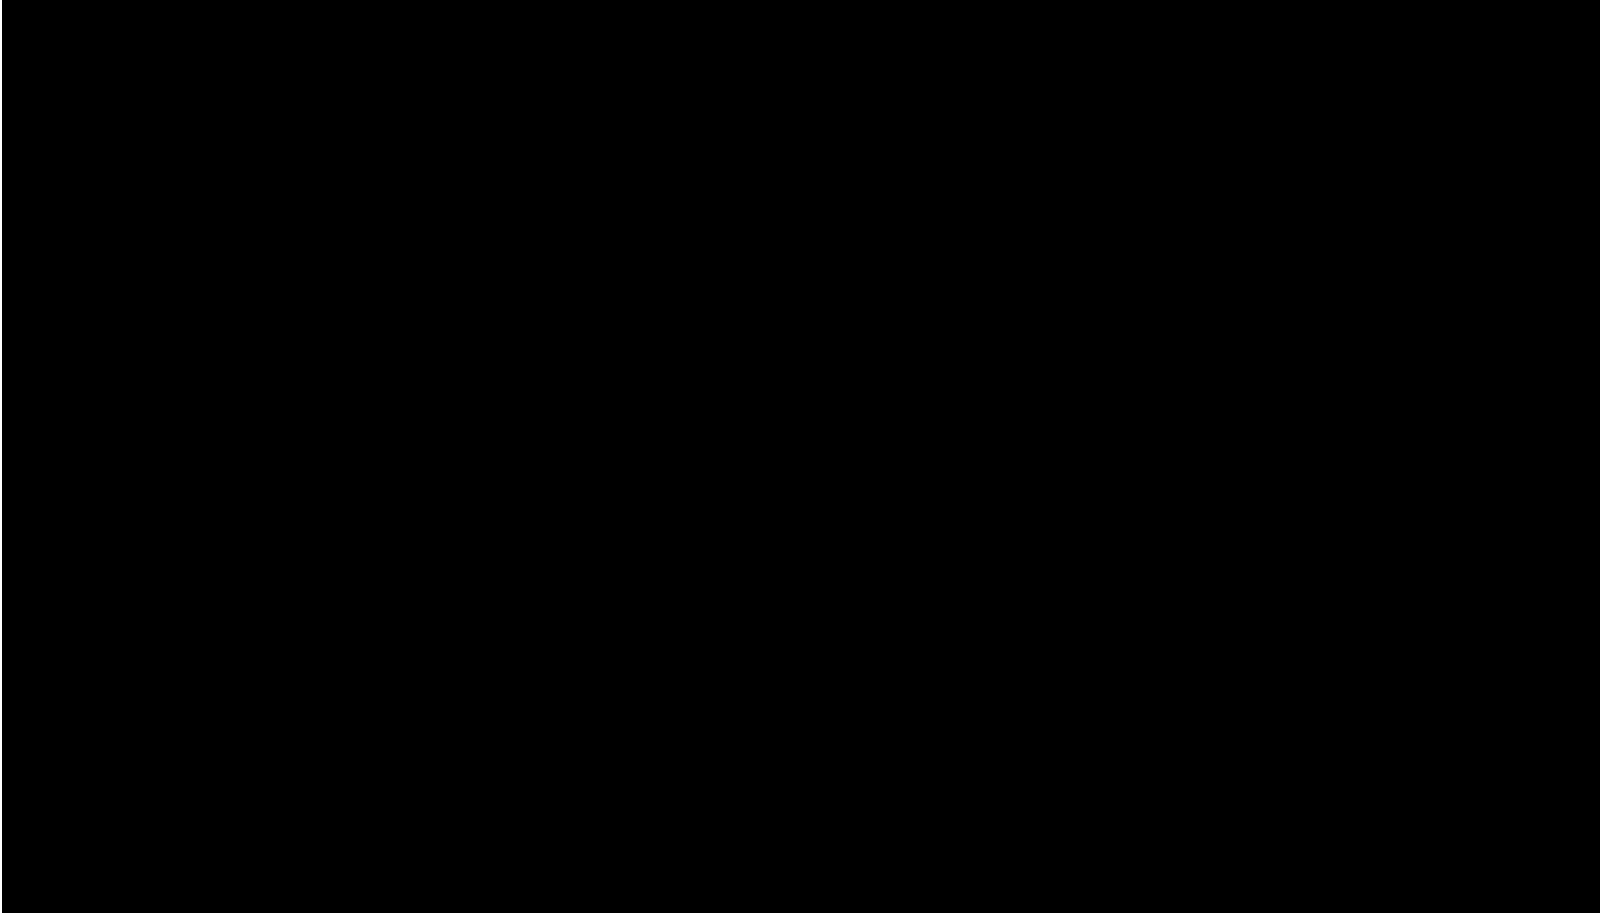

If you, yourself, experienced discrimination or assault

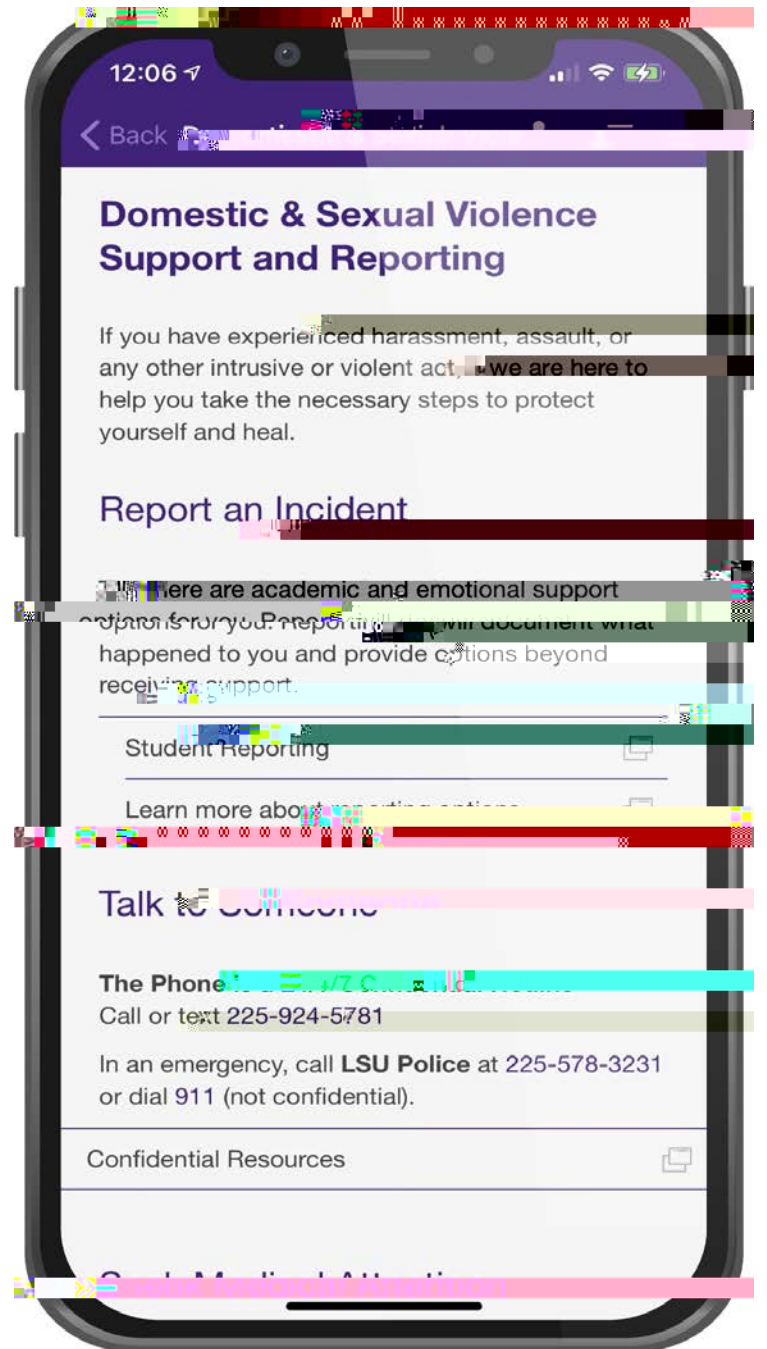

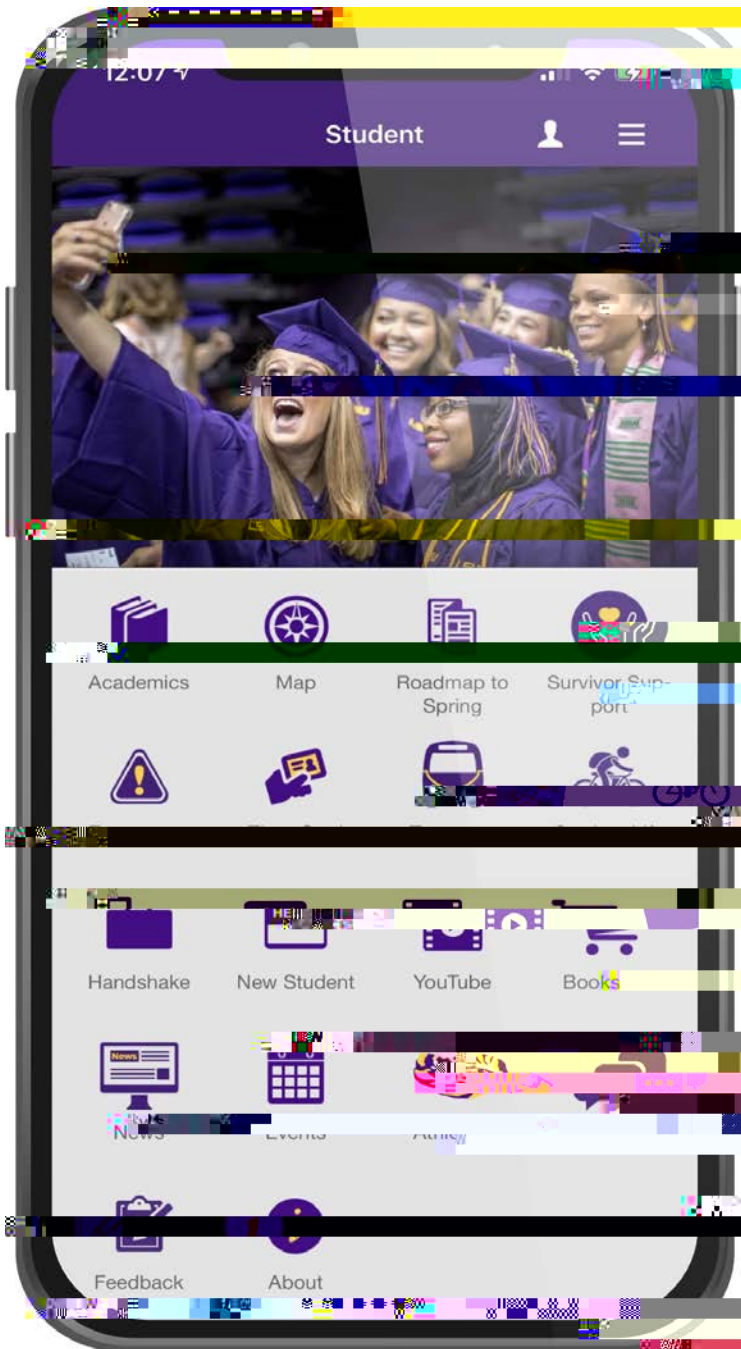

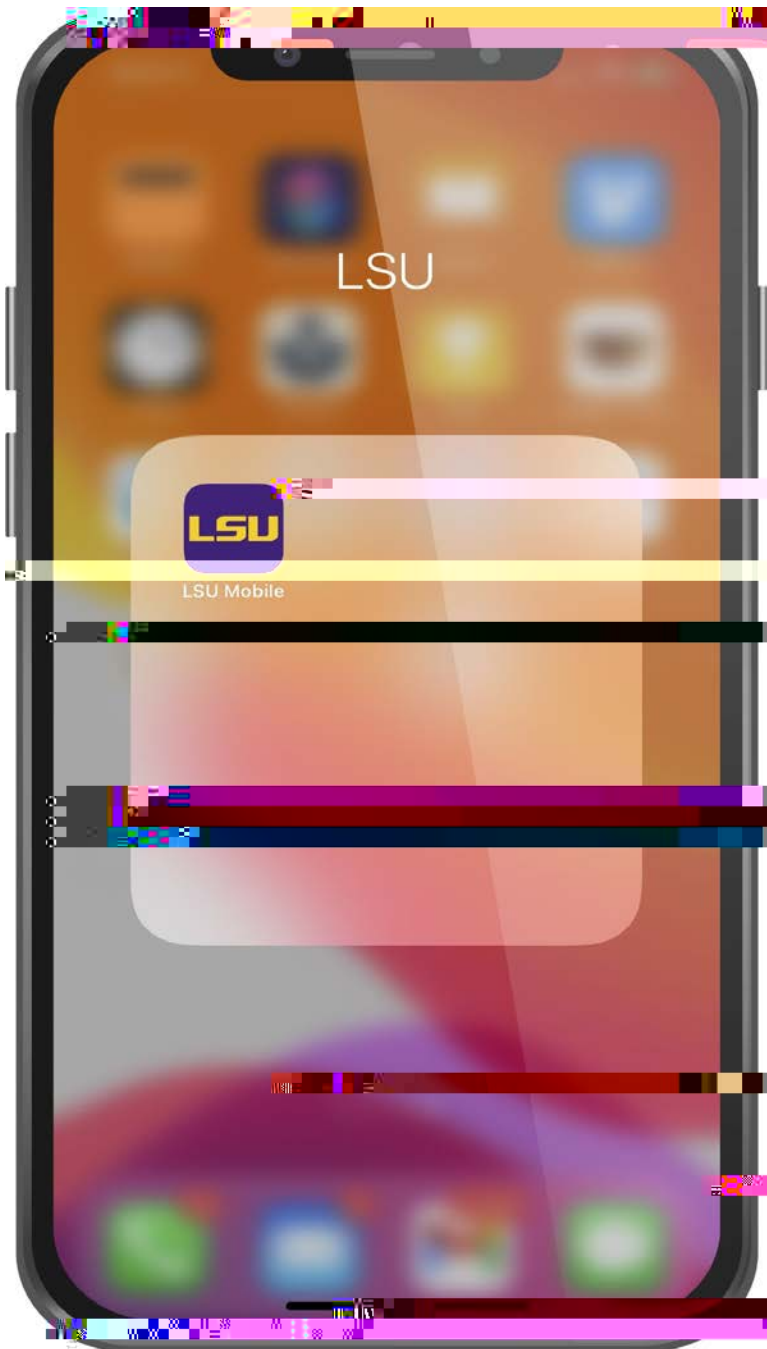

How Do You Report?

- Online at www.lsu.edu/support
- On the LSU Mobile app
- Talk to someone who is a mandatory reporter
- Call the Title IX Office at 578-9000
- In Person at the Title IX Office in 118 Himes Hall

www.lsu.edu/support

How Do You Report?

- Online at www.lsu.edu/support
- On the LSU Mobile app
- Talk to someone who is a mandatory reporter
- Call the Title IX Office at 578-9000
- In Person at the Title IX Office in 118 Himes Hall

Why Should Victims/Survivors Report?

Resources

Advocate

Repeat Offenders

What Do You Say?

- Ask if they are ok
- Tell them you are a mandatory reporter
- Offer to help them file the report themselves so they can be in control of the details

Summary

Many sexual assaults happen on college campuses every year, and LSU is no exception.

Sexual misconduct can take many forms, and none of them are acceptable behaviors

If you witness any sexual harassment, if someone discloses to you, or if you have knowledge of it happening you are a mandatory reporter and if you do not report you may be out of a job.

You can report online, through an app, over the phone, or in person.

