

COMPANY RESEARCH WORKSHEET

LSU students and alumni continually impress recruiters, but recruiters tell us the biggest area for improvement is knowledge of the company and position. Recruiters EXPECT that interviewees have thoroughly researched the position description and company website before sitting down for an interview. You will be a more appealing candidate if you can demonstrate an understanding of the potential employer and how you are uniquely qualified for the position and company.

NOTE: This document should help you intentionally research a company in preparation for an interview. As you research, think about ways you would fit or be an asset to the organizations, questions you might have and how you'll integrate what you learned through your research with your interview answers.
