

Louisiana State University
Distinguished Instructor
Department of Political Science
hmokeba@lsu.edu

Ph.D. in International Studies, University Of South Carolina at Columbia, Summer 1989

Europe Institute, Universität des Saarlandes, Germany, 1984

Maitrise in History, University of Yaounde, 1981

Bachelors in History, University of Yaounde 1980

POLI

POLI 4042, International organizations.

POLI 4078, African government and politics.

POLI 4064, Comparative politics of developing countries.

POLI 4044, Contemporary international system.

POLI 4043, US foreign policy.

Undergraduate Honors Thesis Committee Member, "China's Involvement in Latin America and Possible Ramifications for the United States," International Studies.
Advised: Tatiana Gonzalez-Quiroga

Fall 2023 – POLI 4041 Caitlyn L Jones, Sinead Connolly

Spring 2023 – POLI 4042 Katherine Cass

Fall 2022 – POLI 4041 Mary J McLarty

Spring 2022 – POLI 4042 Derquisia J Spears

Moderated a discussion/debate, Louisiana State University, October 2016.

Residential College Forums on September 11; Diaspora Issues; US Foreign Policy

Residential College (Graham Hall); 1994-1999

Model United Nations; 1993-2004

African Studies Association; 1992-1999

Divine Ladies of Purple and Gold Spring; 2023-Present

Letters of Recommendation (For Law School, Graduate School, and Employment): 10-12 per semester.

“Good Afternoon Dr. Mokeba,

I just wanted to reach out to tell you I'm graduating next week as the only university medalist and will have the highest GPA at commencement. This wouldn't have been possible without all your help and patience with me so I want to express my deep appreciation and gratitude for you and all your help. I also want you to know how much I enjoyed your class and your teaching style.

Sincerely,
Andrew Arabie”

Recognition from the LSU Communication Across the Curriculum team and students; 2021-2023

