Gender Studies Spring 2018 Undergraduate Courses

To earn the WGS Concentration, you have to take WGS 2500, 2900, 3150, and 2 sections of 4500. To be a WGS Minor, you have to take WGS 2500 and 4500.

WGS COURSE OFFERINGS

WGS 2500

This course is an interdisciplinary introduction to how ideas about gender and sexuality affect our lives as women and men, family-members and co-workers, students and citizens. Questions of identity, ethics, economics, education, and social change are explored in a gendered frame. This course meets general education course requirements for Humanities.

Section 1: Time: Online

Dana Berkowitz (Web-based)

Section 2: Time: Online

Sarah Becker (Web-based)

Section 3: MWF 10:30a-11:20a

Peter Cava

Section 4: MWF 11:30a-12:20p

Peter Cava

Section 5: MWF 12:30p-1:20p

Peter Cava

Section 6: T/Th 7:30a-8:50a

Evan Schares

Section 7: T/Th

WGS 4087 Gender/ Place/ Culture

Cross-listed with ANTH 4087, GEOG 4087. The class draws on fields of Anthropology, Geography, and WGS/ International cultural studies to explore intersections race/ identity, gender, place, and culture through ethnography, memoir, comics, and film.

Helen Regis

Th 6:00p-8:50p

WGS 4500