DEFINITION

- A. Independent Contractor: An independent contractor is an individual engaged to perform a service not readily available within the University and the performance of which does not constitute an employee-employer relationship.
- B. Remuneration: Payment for services rendered by an independent contractor.
- C. Professional Service: Work rendered by an independent contractor who has a professed knowledge of some department of learning or science used by its practical application to the affairs of others or in the practice of an art founded on it including, which independent contractor shall include, but not be limited to lawyers, doctors, dentists, veterinarians, architects, engineers, landscape architects, accountants and claims adjusters. A profession is a vocation founded upon prolonged and specialized intellectual training which enables a particular service to be rendered. The word "professional" implies professed attainments in special knowledge as distinguished from mere skill. For contracts with a total amount of compensation of $50,000 or more, the definition of "professional service" shall be limited to lawyers, doctors, dentists, veterinarians, architects, engineers, landscape architects, accountants, claims adjusters, and any other profession that may be added by regulations adopted by the Office of Contractual Review of the Division of Administration.

including but not limited to such areas as management, personnel, finance, accounting, planning, data processing and advertising contracts, except for printing associated therewith.

- F. Employee-Employer Relationship: The employee-employer relationship is distinguished from the independent contractor relationship by the degree of employer direction and control over the way work is done, both as to the final results and as to the details of when and how the work is to be done. Control need not actually be exercised; it is sufficient that he or she has the right to do so.

III. GENERAL POLICY

In making arrangements for guest lecturers/performers and other independent contractors performing similar short-term services for the University, payment in addition to reimbursement of expenses may be required.

- A. Where grant and contract funds are used for such purposes, it is the budget unit's responsibility to ascertain if remuneration to independent contractors may be charged to the grant or contract, and, if specifically required by the granting agency, to get written approval.
- B. Documentation is required which indicates why the particular expertise is not available in the University and why the particular individual was chosen.
- C. Arrangements for professional services of attorneys are to be made through the LSU Systems Office. Arrangements for professional services of architects or engineers are to be made through the Office of Facility Development.
- D. The State of Louisiana Code of Governmental Ethics provides that No former public employee shall, ... for a period of two years following termination of his public employment, render, on a contractual basis to or for the agency with which he was formerly employed, any service which such former public employee had rendered to the agency during the term of his public employment. This is applicable whether the individual resigned or retired from service. The Commission on Ethics for Public Employees has rendered an interpretation which clarifies that in the case of the University, the term agency refers to the department level unit wherein the individual was employed on the campus.
