

For the promotion and retention of staff, the Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

The Board of Supervisors shall have the authority to promote staff to the next higher grade when the staff member has demonstrated exceptional performance and has been recommended by the staff member's supervisor.

